WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1864.

THE CIVIL WAR IN THE SOUTH.
The South has been in a state of rebellion against the United States since April, 1861. The Southern Confederacy consists of eleven states: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee. The capital of the Confederacy is Richmond, Virginia. The Southern army, known as the "Confederate Army," is commanded by General Robert E. Lee. The Southern navy, known as the "Confederate Navy," is commanded by Admiral James D. Bulloch. The Southern economy is based on agriculture, particularly cotton, and the Southern people are predominantly white. The Southern government is controlled by the Confederate States of America.

form embodying that declaration. Seymour has been a candidate since July 1st, and he has been instrumental in getting the platform on which he was nominated. Now the position of the party is one of the most difficult and dangerous. But the October election has indicated the public sentiment upon the whole question, and it is now clear that Mr. Seymour comes out from his dignified secession, and for the first time declares that, if elected, he will not be a traitor to his country. This last remark was evidently intended to apply to the Southern Democrats.

ELIJAH'S EXPLANATION.

Mr. Elijah, a member of the national family, and Vice Presidential candidate of the Ku-Klux party, deserves a hearty laugh. He and his supporters were not present one evening at the meeting, and he had other things to do. The next day he said, "General Grant would never have taken the White House." Here is evidence that he is not a traitor to his country.

He is a traitor to his country. In the end he will receive the same reward as the rest of the traitors.

Mr. Seymour's speech at Boston was a repetition of the war-chefion of the Ku-Klux—labor oppression.

This is what he means when he says, "This is the true spirit of the South." The South is a nation of slaves.

Now Mr. Seymour, why is there a leader or leader upon the ticket? Seymour has been a traitor to his country.

Because, eight years ago, the Democratic party in every State was then and is now a party of slaves.

It is the true spirit of the South that we are to see in the country. His notes show that Blair used the exact language attributed to him.

Now, we know that he is a traitor to his country.
